committed to the division of youth services in the department of human services.

The bill requires the executive director of the commission on higher education to appoint a program coordinator to counsel and support scholarship recipients.

The bill creates an advisory board to establish the scholarship criteria and select scholarship recipients.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

Financially investing in the educational success of youth involved with the division of youth services in the department of human services has proven to have significant positive impacts on reducing recidivism.

(2) The general assembly further declares the Colorado second chance scholarship created in part 12 of article 3.3 of title 23, Colorado Revised Statutes, is intended to award scholarships for the pursuit of a postsecondary credential and gainful employment for youth previously committed to the division of youth services in the department of human services.
