7 this Act is as follows:

WOMEN AND GIRLS

 Sec. 112. Implementation of the United States Strategy to Prevent and Respond to Gender-Based Violence Globally.
 Sec. 113. Monitoring the United States Strategy to Prevent and Respond to Gender-Based Violence Globally.

1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

2 Congress makes the following findings:

3 (1) An estimated 1 out of every 3 women
 4 throughout the world will be beaten, coerced into 5 sex, or otherwise abused in her lifetime.

6 (2) Up to 70 percent of women in some coun-
 7 tries report having been victims of domestic violence
 8 at some stage in their lives.

9 (3) Sexual violence among adolescents and pre-
 10 adolescents is alarmingly high. In 2010, the first na-11 tionally representative survey of violence against 12 children in Tanzania found that nearly 3 in 10 fe-
 13 males and 1 in 7 males experienced sexual violence
 14 prior to the age of 18.

15 (4) The International Men and Gender Equality
 16 Survey dataset shows that adult male respondents in 17 6 countries who had experienced violence as children
 18 were significantly more likely to report perpetrating

1 intimate partner violence themselves than their peers
2 who did not experience violence as children.

3 (5) Violence against women and girls impedes
4 progress in meeting many United States global de-5 velopment goals, including efforts to stem maternal 6 mortality and the spread of HIV/AIDS. Approxi-
7 mately 1 in 4 women are abused during pregnancy
8 which has been linked to miscarriage, pre-term
9 labor, low birth weight, fetal distress, and death.

10 (6) Country studies indicate that the risk of 11 HIV among women who have experienced violence 12 may be up to 3 times higher than among those who 13 have not. Women who have experienced violence are 14 also at higher risk for contracting HIV, and women
15 living with HIV may be up to 3 times more likely 16 to experience violence than other women. Fear of vi-
17 olence also prevents women from accessing HIV/
18 AIDS information and receiving treatment and 19 counseling.

20 (7) The President's Emergency Plan for AIDS
21 Relief (PEPFAR) supports significant work in the 22 field to mainstream gender-based violence into exist-23 ing HIV programs. Addressing gender norms and 24 inequities is essential to reducing HIV risk and in-

1 creasing access to HIV prevention, care and treat-
2 ment services for women and men.

3 (8) Increasing women’s access to economic op-
4 portunities and food security is crucial to preventing 5 and responding to domestic and sexual violence. In-6 clusive finance and micro-enterprise reduce levels of 7 intimate partner violence and provide economic inde-
8 pendence for survivors.

9 (9) Prevalence of sexual violence is higher
10 among persons with disabilities, particularly for ado-11 lescents and intimate partners with disabilities, and 12 for men and women with intellectual impairments
13 living in institutions.

14 (10) Displaced, refugee, and stateless women
15 and girls in humanitarian emergencies, conflict set-
16 tings, and natural disasters face extreme violence
17 and threats, including—

18 (A) being forced to exchange sex for food 19 and humanitarian supplies; and

20 (B) being at increased risk of rape, sexual 21 exploitation, and abuse.

22 (11) Rape and sexual assault against women
23 and girls are used to torture, intimidate, and ter-
24 rorize women and their communities.

1 (12) Early and forced marriage of the girl
2 child—

3 (A) is a violation of human rights as it de-4 nies girls the right to decide when and with 5 whom to marry;

6 (B) is a harmful practice that deprives
7 girls of their dignity, bringing childhood and 8 adolescence to a premature and unnatural end;

9 (C) can end girls' education and can result
10 in bonded labor or enslavement, commercial
11 sexual exploitation, and violence against the vic-
12 tims;

13 (D) significantly increases the risk of ma-
14 ternal death and morbidity, infant mortality
15 and morbidity, obstetric fistula, and sexually 16 transmitted diseases, including HIV/AIDS; and 17 (E) is perpetuated by poverty, a lack of 18 educational or employment opportunities for 19 girls, parental concerns to ensure sexual rela-20 tions within marriage, the dowry system, and 21 the perceived lack of value of girls.

22 (13) World Bank data shows that gender in-23 equality directly corresponds to increased levels of 24 political and economic instability within States.

1 (14) Domestic violence is the most prevalent
2 form of violence against women and prevents women
3 from playing more active roles in the social, eco-
4 nomic, and political development of their commu-
5 nities. In humanitarian crises, this global scourge 6 becomes acute, preventing women from helping to 7 rebuild their countries.

8 SEC. 3. STATEMENT OF POLICY.

9 It is the policy of the United States—

10 (1) to take effective action to prevent and re-
11 spond to violence against women and girls around
12 the world, as a matter of basic human rights as well 13 as to promote gender equality, economic growth, and 14 improved public health;

15 (2) to systematically integrate and coordinate 16 efforts to prevent and respond to violence against

7 (5) to employ a multisectoral approach to pre-
8 venting and responding to violence against women 9 and girls internationally, including activities in the 10 economic, education, health, nutrition, legal, and ju-
11 dicial sectors;

12 (6) to work at all levels, from the individual to 13 the family, community, local, national and inter-
14 national levels, to prevent and respond to violence
15 against women and girls around the globe;

16 (7) to enhance training by United States per-17 sonnel of professional foreign military and police 18 forces and judicial officials to include specific and 19 thorough instruction on preventing and responding 20 to violence against women and girls around the 21 world;

22 (8) to engage men and boys as partners, as an 23 essential element of making sustained reductions in 24 violence against women and girls;

1 (9) to include the prevention of early and forced 2 marriage as an important part of United States
3 Government efforts to prevent violence against girls
4 and promote gender equality and global health;

5 (10) to require that all United States contrac-6 tors and grantees establish appropriate policies and 7 take effective measures to prevent violence against 8 women and girls and sexual exploitation and abuse
9 within their workforce;

10 (11) to exert sustained international leadership

14 to Prevent and Respond to Gender-Based Violence 15 Globally; and

17 Action Plan on Women, Peace, and Security.
