magnificent waterways are home to 14 ski resorts, world-class backcountry skiing, snowboarding and snowmobiling on The Greatest Snow on Earth, 44 state parks, over 40 blue ribbon fisheries, thousands of miles of trails for hiking, off-road vehicle, mountain bike and equestrian use, numerous fascinating natural areas, prolific dinosaur quarries, eight National Monuments, the planet's finest hang gliding venues, outstanding hunting opportunities, boating on lakes and reservoirs, the largest river rapids in the United States, and America's five most spectacular National Parks; WHEREAS, many of these natural assets are located near urban centers and contribute to the growth of thriving communities and enable all Utahns to find solitude and world class outdoor recreation within convenient travel times and live an active and healthy lifestyle; WHEREAS, these natural assets draw millions of visitors each year from across the nation and around the world who spend over $8 billion in the state, generating $1.25 billion in tax revenue and directly employing some 146,000 Utahns; WHEREAS, outdoor recreation builds Utah's economy in other significant but less well-known ways, including:
(1) acting as a critical tool for employee recruitment and retention;
(2) driving development and construction in proximity to recreation opportunities;
(3) fostering the manufacture of outdoor-related products;
(4) attracting telecommuters and retirees; and (5) bringing high-tech and other diverse businesses to Utah that value access to recreation even though they are not in the business of recreation, as reflected in a recent study by Utah Outdoor Partners and the Kem Gardner Institute showing that, for newer, fast-growing businesses, access to outdoor recreation and Utah's outdoor lifestyle were the second and third most important factors in the decision to locate those businesses in Utah; WHEREAS, Utah led the nation in supporting the development of its outdoor economy and outdoor recreation infrastructure through the establishment of the very first state Office of Outdoor Recreation in 2013 and in establishing the Utah Outdoor Recreation Infrastructure Grant that has very successfully leveraged other public and private funding sources; and

57	WHEREAS, the private sector is a key partner in our state's success, and Utah's leaders
58	are committed to responsibly partnering with the business community to ensure that our natural
59	assets can sustain economic growth for years to come:
60	NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the 61	Governor concurring therein, recognize the significant and broad economic importance of 62	Utah's natural assets to Utah's people, and draws particular attention to the fact that this 63	economic importance flows not only directly from outdoor recreation and tourism but also 64	from other significant sources such as attracting people and businesses who build the state's 65	economy in diverse ways.
66	BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and Governor unitedly express the
67	intention to continue the legacy of supporting and growing the broad economic value of Utah's
68	natural assets to benefit the people of Utah.
