Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, the state superintendent of public instruction must license all teachers for the public schools of the state; make rules establishing standards of attainment and procedures for the examination and licensing of teachers; and prescribe by rule standards, requirements, and procedures for the approval of teacher preparatory programs leading to licensure. Currently, the state superintendent may not approve a teacher preparatory program unless the program requires the student to complete one full semester of student teaching following the daily schedule and semester calendar of the cooperating school. Under this bill, the state superintendent may not approve a teacher preparatory program unless it requires a student to complete at least one but not more than four full semesters of student teaching following the daily schedule and semester calendar of the cooperating school. In addition, the state superintendent may approve a teacher preparatory program that requires two to four semesters of student teaching only if the institution of higher education awards general education credits to the student for the second, third, and fourth semesters of student teaching, as applicable.

Under current law, the Department of Public Instruction must annually report certain information for each approved teacher preparatory program in this state, including the first attempt passage rate for students and graduates on examinations that are required for teacher licensure. Under the bill, beginning in the 2025-26 school year, DPI must report this information for all students and graduates of the program, those students and graduates who completed one semester of student teaching, and those student and graduates who completed more than one semester of student teaching.

SENATE BILL 917

The bill also requires DPI to establish a teacher apprenticeship program for students who are participating in a teacher preparatory program that requires two to four semesters of student teaching. Under the bill, the teacher apprenticeship program must include various components, including the conditions under which an individual may serve as a teacher apprentice, a requirement that the individual enter into an apprentice contract, and a requirement to be registered with DPI.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
