***AUTHORS SUBJECT TO CHANGE***

1 Relating to: proclaiming May 1, 2023, as Loyalty Day in Wisconsin.

2       Whereas, beginning as Americanization Day in 1921 to combat political 3 extremism at the height of the First Red Scare, Loyalty Day is a day set aside for 4 Americans to reaffirm allegiance to the United States and recognize the heritage of 5 American freedom; and

6       Whereas, following Loyalty Day's recognition by Congress on April 27, 1955, 7 during the Second Red Scare, President Dwight D. Eisenhower issued the first 8 presidential proclamation in observance of the patriotic holiday; and

9       Whereas, regardless of his political affiliation, every president has issued a 10 proclamation in observance of Loyalty Day every year since Congress made it an 11 official legal holiday on July 18, 1958; and 12       Whereas, since the time of the American Revolution, the United States has 13 stood for freedom, both at home and abroad; and

14       Whereas, other countries do not have the rights afforded to Americans and 15 many are even deprived of basic human rights or ruled by tyrants; and
